

It is Christmas Eve. Blue Mouse is very excited. She is waiting at grandma's house for mum and dad to come home. They arrive at last. The twins are fast asleep. She tucks her hand into mums and skips off down the road. They go out for some tea first. It is good but Blue Mouse is almost too excited to eat.

As a special treat mum and dad take Blue Mouse and the twins to look at the Christmas lights. They look so magical, twinkling and sparkling in the dark.

Mum looks at her watch, "Time to go home now."

Blue Mouse has her bath and dad helps her to find her clean night clothes. Mum feeds and settles the twins. Blue Mouse puts her pillow case under the tree. She finds two more and leaves them out for the twins. This is a very special time for them as it is their very first Christmas. She carefully writes her name on a piece of paper and a letter to Santa. She does the same for the twins. She hopes he won't get too tired. She knows this is a very busy night for him.

...to be continued tomorrow!
