Mud pies (makes 12)

Here's what you need:

1 tbsp cocoa powder
125g castor sugar
175g butter
250g broken biscuits
1 bar of chocolate
Small bun cases
Bun tray
Small pan
Plastic bowl
Wooden spoon

What to do:

1. Place the bun cases in the tray and set to one side.
2. Ask a grown up to help you melt the butter gently in a pan, don't boil it!
3. Remove the pan from the heat and carefully stir in the cocoa powder and sugar.
4. Now add the broken biscuits and give it a good stir.
5. Use a large spoon to put a dollop of mixture in each bun case.
6. Press the mixture down with a wooden spoon.
7. Keep the pies in the tray and put them in the fridge for about 2 hours.
8. Once the pies are ready you can now melt the chocolate for the topping.
9. Ask a grown up to help you melt the chocolate. Break it into small chunks and place in a plastic bowl over a small pan or bowl of hot water. Stir it carefully and when it has all melted, spread it onto each mud pie.
10. Yummy, now they are ready to share with your family and friends. Enjoy!
